

Parelli Foundation Fundraiser

October 8-9th, 2011. Vista, Ca.

Vista Palomar Riders Club

Join us for a weekend of fun with our horses. Whether you are a student of the Parelli Natural Horsemanship program or are interested. This is a great way to meet like minded people, get lessons from a group of Licensed Instructors, and have fun with your horse. All proceeds go to the Parelli Foundation. (see below)

Tentative Schedule:

Saturday: 9-12, lessons online or riding. We will have instructors available to help you at the level you are working on, or if you are just starting, help you begin your journey to natural horsemanship. We will have toys and obstacles set up also.

1pm Saddle fit with 3 Instructor Margit Deerman*

2-4 Online Ground Workshop or just enjoy your horse at your own pace, instructors will also be available to help you.

Sunday:

9-12pm Freestyle Riding Workshop

1pm Jessica Lynne will give a equine nutrition talk

2-4pm Parelli Games Online/Liberty/Freestyle

Silent Auction: Lots of great things to buy so bring your cash. Bids close at noon on Sunday. If you have anything you want to donate for the silent auction please contact Cindy Giannini at savvystables@me.com

Guest Speakers: so far we have two great people who will donate their time.

Lydia Hiby, world renowned animal communicator, will be there for photo readings. She is also a student of Parelli Natural Horsemanship. www.lydiahiby.com.

Jessica Lynne, owner of Earthsongranch will also have a booth and be available for any nutrition questions. She too is a student of Parelli. www.earthsongranch.com.

Join us to help raise money for the Parelli foundation. Money goes toward The Parelli Horsemanship Fund will support four major causes the Parelli Community cares most about:

Horsemanship for Kids – to help give kids an opportunity to choose a future that includes horses. From Parelli to Pony Club to 4-H to youth clinics and camps, we will help foster the innate natural grace that most children possess when it comes to horses by empowering them to identify and intensify their natural savvy with horses.

Scholarships – to help develop future Parelli Professionals and equine professionals. By focusing on the teachers of tomorrow we can rapidly multiply outreach efforts to our other three causes worldwide and put boots on the ground to make quantifiable impact around the globe. When you think about how many individual horse lovers each individual Parelli Professional can help, you begin to understand that our scholarship efforts are not so much about one person as the multiplicative influence these individuals will have in helping others realize their own dreams.

Horse Rescues – to help give misunderstood or neglected horses a future. By providing training for rescue center personnel, donating take-home educational and equipment care kits to adopters and partnering with major rescue and animal welfare organizations, we will help create environments where rescue horses receive the best possible second chance.

Therapeutic Riders – to help support horsemen with disabilities. Be it helping a paraplegic horseman realize their dream of competing at the Olympics, or showing an autistic child the calming effects of a dependable pony, the Parelli Horsemanship Fund will make touchable improvements in the lives of horsemen with disabilities.
